

Foreword

This issue of the International Journal of Bioelectromagnetism includes three articles on various topics where bioelectromagnetism has been used as a research tool. The first two articles are from the research group of Professor Fabio Babiloni at Sapienza University, Rome, Italy. The third article is from the research group of Professor Kazuo Yana, Hosei University, Tokyo.

I thank all the authors for providing their manuscripts in a short time. I also thank the reviewers for doing their extensive review quickly. This has made it possible to produce this IJBEM issue in a very short time. All this has been possible since the publishing takes place on the Internet.
